From the Pastor

"The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control." - Galatians 5:22b-23a. The fruits of the Holy Spirit are often confused with the gifts of the Holy Spirit as most of us had them taught to us in long parallel lists in confirmation class and then never have thought of them since. That is a real problem as the gifts of the Holy Spirit are given to us for our work as Christians in spreading the gospel. The fruits are the reverse of rumble strips on a road - when we are doing what the Holy Spirit wants of us, we should be seeing an increase in the fruits, and when we aren't seeing them it's a warning sign that we perhaps aren't doing what the Holy Spirit desires.

Take for example the fruit of peace. Last weekend I hosted my family on Sunday. My nieces have never been good at napping, but the younger one took an almost three-hour nap. My sister was impressed enough that she's threatening to have Uncle Father John babysit regularly as my niece said my house was peaceful. While it's great that my niece finds the rectory calm and relaxing that is not the peace that is the fruit of the Holy Spirit.

Rather the fruit is closer to what I'm experiencing as I write this, with a finance council meeting this evening as well as two meetings at the same time about our upcoming capital campaign, a bunch of pressing deadlines for the Presbyteral Assembly, and information and preparation for Synod 2025 on Saturday. I'm busy, but I trust that God is in control. I will do my best, but I know that even if everything crashes and burns (even though I'd give good odds none of it will, in fact the opposite) that all shall be well, because of the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, because as Paul says in Romans 8:28 "we know that all things work for good for those who love God." We are especially reminded of this working this weekend during the sequence of Pentecost. The sequence reminds us in poetic form how the Holy Spirit works, so we must pay attention to where this work is bearing fruit.

C.R.O.S.S. FOOD SHELF NEWS

Monthly Collection - This weekend is our regular time to contribute non-perishable food and dry good items to the local food shelf. Please place your donation of items in one of the bins located at the exits. Monetary donations and/or Scrip gift cards may be placed in a specially marked envelope and dropped in the regular Sunday collection basket.

MASS INTENTIONS

We have open dates in the Mass schedule for Mass intentions. Masses may be offered for the living or deceased and for various reasons like remembrance, thanksgiving, or special intentions. If you would like to schedule a mass intention, please call the parish office at 763.428.2828 or email sjbchurch@yahoo.com. The usual stipend is $7.00.

GARDENERS NEEDED

St. John's is seeking to form a group of volunteers who can commit to helping water the flowers and gardens on the church property. Ideally, we would like to assemble a group of 7 teams of 2 people each so each team would have to water only once a week. If interested in helping with this ministry, please call the parish office at 763.428.2828 or email sjbchurch@yahoo.com

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION

"The Advocate, the Holy Spirit whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all that I told you."
- John 14:26

The materialism of our society lures us to concentrate more on what we want than on what God wants for us. The relativism of our world tells us that we should be tolerant of all things, that there is no absolute truth. Pray to the Holy Spirit to transform our lives and to guide our thoughts, words and actions. What you put in your mind, heart, and soul affects your actions. Put good things in and good things will come out.

CATHOLIC Q & A

WHY USE INCENSE?

Question: Why do we use incense at Mass?

Answer: The use of incense in religious ceremonies and worship is a practice that predates Christianity, and which is also found in many other religious traditions today.

Incense, which is made from resin infused with aromatic spices and oils, is one of those fundamentally human symbols that incorporates more than one of our senses, helping us to reflect on realities that transcend the everyday details of our lives.

The use of incense in the Church's liturgy — in the Mass, as well as in devotions to the Eucharist and the Liturgy of the Hours — is inspired by the use of incense in the Jewish tradition. In the writings of the Old Testament, we hear about incense being used in the worship of the temple, and Psalm 141 asks, "Let my prayer be incense before you; my uplifted hands an evening offering" (vs. 2). The image here is that, as the incense gently rises to heaven, our prayers also rise to God as something sweet and pleasant.

Another ancient use of incense that has also become part of our Catholic tradition is the idea that when we incense something, it's because it is something special or sacred. This is why the Book of the Gospel is incensed during the Liturgy of the Word and the bread, wine, priest celebrant, and congregation are incensed at the presentation of the gifts. To this, we can also add the incensing of the Blessed Sacrament during eucharistic adoration and benediction, and the body of the deceased at the end of the Mass of the Resurrection (the Funeral Mass). ©LPi

Receive the Spirit

Today's readings: Acts 2:1–11; Psalm 104:1, 24, 29–30, 31, 34; 1 Corinthians 12:3b–7, 12–13 or Romans 8:8–17; John 14:15–16, 23b–26 or John 20:19–23. In the Gospel from John 20, we hear that the disciples had locked themselves up, for fear of those who were persecuting Jesus' followers. After Jesus' crucifixion, the disciples were lost, unsure of what to do next. Despite the locked doors, Jesus appears to them and says: "Peace be with you." They rejoice when they see his wounds, indeed confirming what Mary Magdalene announced to them: "I have seen the Lord" (20:18, just prior to today's reading). Jesus sends the disciples out, breathing on them: "Receive the holy Spirit." After receiving the Spirit, the disciples have the courage to come out of hiding; they understand their mission to share the Good News and are equipped with what they need to do so.

The Solemnity of Pentecost celebrates God's sending of the Holy Spirit upon Jesus' disciples after his resurrection. This solemnity marks the end of the Easter season. On this day, we are reminded to call on the Holy Spirit every day. The Holy Spirit emboldens us to respond to our call to go out and share the truth of life after death in Christ. Let us pray for a deeper indwelling of the Holy Spirit, that we may receive the courage, wisdom, and patience needed to listen to the ways God moves in our lives.

THIS WEEK AND BEYOND

Monday, June 9

Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of the Church

The Memorial of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of the Church, is celebrated the Monday after Pentecost. Mary has the title “Mother of the Church” because she gave birth to Jesus, who is the Head of the Church. This evening, pray the Rosary or the Magnificat. Ask Mary to intercede for you. Today’s readings: Genesis 3:9–15, 20 or Acts 1:12–14; Psalm 87:1–2, 3 and 5, 6–7; John 19:25–34.

Monday, July 14

St. Kateri Tekakwitha

St. Kateri is the first North American native to be canonized. When she was four, her family died during a smallpox epidemic; she was left disfigured and half blind. Kateri was adopted by an uncle who did not approve of her interest in Catholicism, but she still converted to the faith at age nineteen. To celebrate St. Kateri, spend time learning about her dedication to her faith. How can you be a witness to her example? Today’s readings: Exodus 1:8–14, 22; Psalm 50:8–9, 16bc–17, 21 and 23; Matthew 10:34–11:1.

Tuesday, July 22

St. Mary Magdalene

St. Mary Magdalene, one of Jesus’ disciples, accompanied the Lord in his darkest time, during his crucifixion. Mary Magdalene was one of the witnesses chosen to announce the resurrection to the apostles; because of this, she is known as the “apostle to the apostles.” Today, prayerfully read John 20:1–2, 11–18. How are you, like Mary Magdalene, a witness to the resurrection of our Savior? How can you tell others that you have “seen the Lord?” Today’s readings: Song of Songs 3:1–4b or 2 Corinthians 5:14–17; Psalm 63:2, 3–4, 5–6, 8–9; John 20:1–2, 11–18.

Tuesday, July 29

Martha, Mary, and Lazarus

Jesus visits Martha and Mary after Lazarus, their brother, died. Martha and Mary, at different times in John 11, approach Jesus and say to him: “Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died.” Later in John 11, we read that Jesus weeps when he sees Lazarus’ body. Jesus weeps with us in our times of grief and sadness. This evening, learn about Ignatian contemplation, also known as imaginative prayer or Gospel contemplation. After learning about this form of prayer, practice it while reading of the raising of Lazarus (John 11:1–44). Today’s readings: Exodus 33:7–11, 34:5b–9; Psalm 34:2–3, 4–5, 6–7, 8–9, 10–11; John 11:19–27.

Friday, August 8

St. Dominic

St. Dominic, a Spanish priest, was known for his preaching. He founded the Order of Preachers, also known as the Dominicans. The Dominicans follow four pillars: prayer, study, community, and preaching. After Dominic’s example, they dedicate themselves to balancing these four pillars in their lives to proclaim the Good News. How can you dedicate yourself to prayerfully study your faith? Consider joining a Bible study at a parish near you. Today’s readings: Deuteronomy 4:32–40; Psalm 96:1–2a, 2b–3, 7–8a, 10; Matthew 16:24–28.

Wednesday, August 27

St. Monica

Monica was St. Augustine of Hippo’s mother. Most of what we know about her comes from Augustine’s writings. In his Confessions, Augustine describes himself as a wayward son. St. Monica had a vision that assured her he would return to the faith, so she dedicated herself to praying and fasting for him. St. Monica teaches us the importance of patient, disciplined prayer. Today, ask St. Monica to join you as you bring your intentions to God. Today’s readings: 1 Thessalonians 2:9–13; Psalm 131:1bcde, 2, 3; Matthew 23:27–32.
